Sir,

I am giving a very short/ brief suggestion to you for successful rescue operations in cases where small children are trapped in some bore well:-

“Please set up a Department of Disaster Relief. It may comprise officers of Indian Administrative Service/IPS/Fire Department etc. Arrange their training through experts from China/Japan etc. They should be given effective and specialized training for rescuing children trapped in bore wells also. It is such team only which should be deputed for every such operation , instead of leaving such rescue operations at the hands of district administration to try hit and trial methods.”

With regards.

Yours Sincerely,

(HARI CHAND)
